Monthly Comment

Markets rallied in July, investors were relieved by the tariff headlines that were within the expected range. Earnings for US companies also helped the market mood. In Europe, they were in line with expectations, but somewhat affected by the recent strength in the euro.

The long book had a positive impact on performance and outperformed the move in relevant indices. Financials, health care and industrials were the main drivers of performance in the long book. Conversely, the performance of the long book was penalized by consumer staples, materials and utilities.

Banks rallied in the month, thanks to a combination of better-than-expected revenues, low provisions and ongoing high capital returns. Commerzbank was strong and was helped by the increase in German GDP expectations and increased expectations of a UniCredit bid. Société Générale had an excellent set of results and unveiled a material new share buyback. Erste Group Bank upgraded its guidance on ROE and profits. In technology, Temenos shows good momentum related to IA integration in the banking sector.

Consumer exposed stocks were under pressure because of worries on the health of the US consumer and the tariff impact. Investors' nervousness transpired in the very strong negative reaction on minor earnings disappointment. Adidas was weak with some signs of slowdown in their footwear sales. Universal Music Group underperformed on an inline set of numbers; there was confusion on the consequences of the departure of Cyrille Bolloré from the board. ASM International disappointed on their orders in the quarter.

The short book had a negative impact on performance, with index hedges but mostly single name shorts costing performance. Only technology contributed positively to the short book. Companies with high short interest were squeezed in July.

Our proprietary European macroeconomic index is improving gently, while the global one has also recovered since April. There might be some early signs of economic improvement in China. Patience is needed in Europe for interest rates and stimuli announcements to have an impact on economic activity. In that environment, we believe that corporates will still be able to grow at a moderate pace, but risks are growing with trade wars and US dollar weakness.

Value on the long book decreased from 47.3% to 46.1% but cyclical increased from 50.4% to 53.9%. Net exposure and gross exposure decreased from 74.7% to 69.8% and from 161.6% to 157.3%.
