Monthly Comment

European markets rose in September, supported by the perception of an accommodative Fed and a seemingly unstoppable news flow of AI capex investments. US economic growth remained strong despite labor market weakness. European macro data stayed resilient but were somewhat overshadowed by political instability in key European countries.

Against this backdrop, ELEVA SRI Euroland Selection was up 3.78% vs an index up 2.79%, an outperformance of 99 basis points.

Sector allocation had a positive impact, thanks to the underweight in consumer staples and in energy as well as the overweight in industrials. Conversely, the overweight in materials and in technology as well as the underweight in financials had a negative impact on performance. Stock picking was positive, particularly in health care, materials and consumer discretionary.

UCB was a very strong performer in a month that brought greater clarity on Mr. Trump's pharmaceutical policy, a material pipeline success with promising data for galvokimig, and the failure of a competitive competitor's drug in Hidradenitis Suppurativa, a chronic inflammatory skin disease. ASM International had a positive investor day that highlighted strong growth opportunities in the medium term. Semiconductor assets were in demand on the back of the AI boom and expectations of a memory upcycle. Prysmian was also seen as a key beneficiary of the ongoing investments in electrification in its key US market.

CVC Capital Partners was weak as the trading update materialized the need for a high growth in costs. There was also some profit-taking in banks, which affected Banca Monte Paschi di Siena.

Our proprietary European macroeconomic index (ELEVA Capital Index Europe) is improving slightly, while the global one (ELEVA Capital Index Global) is stabilizing. There may be some early signs of economic improvement in China. Patience is needed in Europe for interest rates and stimuli announcements to have an impact on economic activity. In that environment, we believe that corporates will still be able to grow at a moderate pace, but risks are growing with trade wars and US dollar weakness.

The fund's exposure to value and cyclical stocks is 44.1% and 64.0% respectively.

Since inception, ELEVA SRI Euroland Selection is up 16.78% vs an index up 21.28%, an underperformance of 450 basis points.
